The ultimate goal of any student who is studying at the university is to get a diploma of higher education, become a bachelor or master. Ahead of the diploma holder expects many prospects and adult independent life, but periodically worries the main question, what will happen if the student does not come to the exam, or will the session fall at all?

What will happen if the student does not come to the exam?

Yeah, the events are sad, and the problems entail alone. Do not experiment with your future, and "What will happen if ...", it is better to learn from knowledgeable people or guess about the consequences only in theory, guesses.

What is the essence of the problem?

The exam is an important component of each session, when a student can fully demonstrate the completeness of its own knowledge on this or that object. It is important not just to appear at the specified time and at the specified place, but also to prepare well, since the final assessment will be put up in the test book and affects the receipt of scholarships in the future semester.

All students are panicky afraid of examinations, but still try to appear on time and with dignity to pass this important student test. On the one hand, such a zeal and adhering are commendable, but on the other - each student of the university clearly understands what the appearance of the exam on the exam threatens.

The consequences are not the most favorable, but in the absence of valid reasons for the lack of "final testing" and at all can follow inevitable deductions.

If the student did not appear on the exam, checking the teacher automatically exposes a final assessment of "unsatisfactory" into the statement.

In essence, this is a twice that does not give a student university to go to the next course and consider yourself to surrender the next session.

What if not allowed to session?

It is not necessary to talk about the receipt of scholarships and at all, you can forget about additional financing by the state apparatus, at least for the nearest semester.

The non-appearance of the student on the exam is the "tail" that will have to pull, if, of course, in the dean, the trash will provide such an opportunity. Everyone decides teachers from the department, in particular, the teacher, on whose exam, the student dare not appear.

After all, it is he who will have to make an unplanned test of the knowledge of the trash, to make concessions and enter his position. So the situation is unpleasant when several teachers "have" tooth "have" at once, and one of them will accept the exam, assess the knowledge of merit.

Good reasons for the examination of the student on the exam

If the student was sick, lay in the hospital, performed an important order or for the time of the session was absent in the city for good reasons, he would not have problems with the surrender of the exam.

Such weighty arguments of the absence during the exam deanat will always understand, especially if there is official evidence. It can be a sick leave, a ticket or other document with a clearly specified temporary framework that correspond to the session period.

If the cause of the failure to appear is respectful, the student can separately demonstrate their own knowledge of returning to the university. Ideally, it is necessary to report in advance in the dean and the teacher (preferably in writing) that during the delivery it will not be in the academic group.

How to appeal the results of the exam?

Since the first test of knowledge in its case was not estimated, the student of the university has a real chance to get an "excellent" on the so-called "relief", which will not negatively affect overall performance.

The chances of getting in the next semester is still high, unless, of course, thoroughly prepare for the upcoming delivery, even with a delay.
